Market did not arrive today. There was the same immense liquidation as heretofore recently, but the buying was even larger. Prices advanced everywhere, in some issues only tractionally and in otners in sharp burges. The close was near the top. Ine bank statement was a fine one, but it did not change the tone of the market in the least. The industrial securities were the prominent features of the market, Sugar, People's Gas, and the steel stocks all having sharp advances. To many this was a signal that the end To many this was a signal that the end of the boom is near, as it has been thought that these securities might be held until the last for an upward movement on which to sell out the railway stocks. Other enthusiastic bulls will not listen to this theory, but believe that there is simply a natural shifting of accounts, and that the boom is likely to continue with little reaction for some time to come. Nobody's opinion is worth much as to just when such an upward movement will end. It is certain that profits should be taken from time to time, and that stop loss orders should be kept OATS under holdings not far away from the market. years are favorable at most markets, with the possible exception of some parts of the Northwest, where the spring wheat shortage and unseascnable weather have checked distribution. Notably cheerful reports come, too, from Western jobbers, who have been called on for reassorting orders and who report collections good. "Quietness in wholesale lines is usual at this period, but it is to be noted that specially good advices come from the iron and steel, hardware, groceries, fanny goods, toys, and confectioners' trades, while a distinctly cheerful tone is found in shoes, leather, and lumber, although Eastern shipments of the first named are still considerably emaller than last year. Industrial lines are fairly well employed, and strikes are few and tar between. "Current gross railway earnings are running well up to or in excess of last year, strikes are few and far between.

"Current gross railway earnings are running well up to or in excess of last year, though some decrease might naturally have been looked for. Net carnings of the railroads, as a whole, are smaller than last year, because the decreases due to the coal strike are now in evidence.

"Bank clearings are little below those of last year, which it will be recalled were the heaviest of any week in 1839 because of the swelling of bank operations by the short lived December panic of last year. Prices show few changes, most stapi's being steady, but it might be noted that most farm products are slightly higher than last week, and well above 1899.

"Cotion, following the reasoning as to a large supply being needed to satisfy even a much reduced consumption, few signs of which are yet presented, and favored by smaller receipts, is slightly higher on the week, and quotations are now about where they were before the late break, Grey cotions have given slightly, but the price is still above parity with finished products.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

A Better Distribution of Staple Lines of Merchandise. NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Dun's review of oday says: lantic seaboard and pronounced activity in distribution of all staple lines of merchandise at Southern cities have imparted a slightly more aggressive tone to general business. But for the hesitation always seen in the larger cities in the holiday season, the gain would have been quite pronounced, but as it was, New York bank clearings lost only I per cent, compared with the same week of 1899, while they show a gain of 41.26 per cent over 1898. Outside of New York the gain in clearings for the week reached 1.3 per cent compared with 1899, with 17.2 per cent gain over 1898.

"Distinctive holiday business, which at "Distinctive holiday business, which at this period of the season means retail distribution, has shown further improve-ment, and no complaint is heard from any quarter, while the jewelry trade is much more active than for several years past. A reflection of the increasing confidence in business since election is found in the larger calls upon the banks at most of larger calls upon the banks at most of the leading cities for funds to finance new enterprises all over the country, but par-ticularly in the South. Railroad earnings for the first half of December were 2.6 per cent larger than last year, and 19.5 per cent over 1898.

"Unchanged conditions in the leading manufacturing industries during the last week before the holidays mean much. At this time in ordinary years furnaces close down in large numbers, and duliness is general at mills and shops where iron and steel arc handled. Instead of reduction of working force or concessions in price this year, however, reports from the principal cities indicate the existence of contracts that will take months to fill.

protest against this arrangement. He said that the counter-attraction offered by the masqueraders would seriously interfere with the attendance at the religious watch night meetings and tend to alienate the interest of the religious portion of the community.

In order to avoid giving offence to the ministers it was decided to have the masqueraders start from Music Hall at 9 o'clock p. m., directly after the conclusion of the fireworks, and for the parade to terminate at 10 o'clock p. m., which is to terminate at 19 o'clock p. m., which is expected to allow sufficient time for the parade to march over the route. Rev. Mr. Richardson said he was sorry there were to be no exercises to impress upon the people in a lasting maner the progress of the world in general during the last century, and of Baltimere in particular. To meet this difficulty John R. Rogers said that he would ask Mayor Hayes to make an address at the Red Cross meeting at the Music Hall, the burden of which address is to be an account of Baltimore's advancement since 1800. Mr. Rogers also said that he would try to get another speaker to talk along similar lines.

Rogers also said that he would try to get another speaker to talk along similar lines, and ex-Gov. William Pinkney Whyte was suggested. The suggestion was promptly accepted.

8 Rev. C. Herbert Richardson afterward called to see Cardinal Gibbons and asked him on behalf of the Red Cross Society to read the Pope's cablegram at the Music Hall meeting. The Cardinal thanked Rev. Mr. Richardson for the invitation and will let him have an answer today.

Col. W. A. Boykin was unanimously requested to act as marshal-in-chief of the civic parade. He replied that he expected to be in New York on important business on December 31. Despite this objection he was awarded the position, with power to name his own aides and a marshal to take his place if he should be absent.

Secretary Forrest stated that the reason why the civic portion of the celebration had not figured more prominently was because the Finance Committee did not have money enough to provide the requisite number of bands for a proper showing of such a demonstration.
